GOLD PLATFORM IS AGREED UPON

St. Louis Convention Will Favor
the Yellow Metal.

NO STRADDLE WILL BE COUN- TENANCED.

With the Full Approval of Major
McKinley the Convention Will Make a Positive Declaration—Platt
Threatens To Bolt, But Mark
Hanna Does Not Get Excited—Carter Will Not Quit—The Plans of Silver Men.

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—There will be an unequivocal declaration for the gold standard in the money plank adopted by the republican national convention. This was decided at an early conference held Friday. It was decided to take a bold stand on the money question. It will contain even the words "gold standard," so often alive to the free silver advocates. It is to be pushed through the convention, even if the free silver men bolt.

This line of action was mapped out by western men in conference, who wanted to head off all eastern interference in the writing of the money plank. The scheme was submitted to Mark Hanna, who in turn submitted it to Maj. McKinley by means of the busy private wire which terminates in Mr. Hanna's room. Mr. McKinley placed his OK on the plan for the monetary campaign. Mark Hanna countersigned it, and the gold men proclaim that the currency fight is all over.

The conference was attended by Senator Proctor, Myron Herrick, M. H. De Young, H. H. Kohlsaat, Mr. Payne, H. Clay Evans, Gen. Lew Wallace and a number of other western republican celebrities. It was held in the room of Col. Myron T. Herrick, adjoining the Ohio headquarters, and lasted nearly the entire day.

Mr. Kohlsaat was at Mr. Hanna's rooms the greater part of the day, closeted with many gold men and some few silver advocates. He was afterward interviewed. "It's all over," he said, "There will be a gold platform adopted. It will contain the words 'gold standard,' and it will be so plain that no easterner will be able to find fault, even if he did not have a hand in its manufacture. It is the only course that could be determined upon without making the republican party appear weak and undecided. And just as soon as the convention next week declares for the platform that was decided upon there will be a revival in business. Why, I know one firm in Chicago that has millions of English money ready to loan and invest on good security just as soon as that convention declares itself. England is just full of money, but the capitalists are afraid to send it to this country until the money agitation is settled."

"The silver men will not bolt. Mr. De Young was talking to me a short time ago. He said: 'We silver men will go with you this time, but we'll get free coinage, and then you'll go with us.' I have talked to several influential silver men and that seems to be the general opinion. They will make as good a fight as their sixty-nine delegates can make for silver, and then abide by the opinion of the majority. Of course some may leave the convention, but I cannot find one man who is ready now to declare that he is going to bolt. The national convention is a sound-money convention and a sound-money platform will be adopted."

"The tariff? Oh, that will right itself. The very name of McKinley stands for the tariff."

Mark Hanna, who consistently declines to be interviewed, admits that the money question is all settled if the McKinley men know their strength in the convention. Mr. Hanna is confident that he knows exactly where McKinley stands in the convention and that he is in absolute control.

With a few exceptions the free silver republicans maintain a dignified silence. They are waiting for Senator Teller of Colorado to come and assume the management of the 16 to 1 end of the convention. The exceptions are loudly shouting "free and unlimited coinage of silver or a bolt," but such sentiments do not find favor with the men whose words have weight. This is the situation as outlined by a free-silver republican, who hopes that the republican financial plank will be an out and out gold standard plank.

"This convention of course will either strangle or adopt a gold-standard plank. We will make a fight on the floor of the convention, and then we may quietly leave the hall before the nominations are made. We have made no plans. There has been no conference, and yet we perfectly understand one another.

"What we want is a clear-cut fight this fall on the silver issue. If the republicans come out for a gold standard and if the democrats come out for free silver we will simply let the two parties fight it out, but if the republicans straddle and the democrats adopt free silver and put up a man for president who is acceptable to us we will come back to St. Louis, ratify that nomination when the silver convention meets here July 22, and then inaugurate the hottest campaign ever held on earth. If the democrats straddle as well as the republicans we will nominate Senator Teller for president on a free silver platform and elect him in November."

Mr. Platt's threats to bolt are regarded here as a big game of bluff. Most of the politicians, including the leaders from Illinois, deem it an ill-timed and ill-advised game, but most persons say he will subside as soon as soon as he has secured the promise that Morton will be nominated for the vice-presidency.

A most important conference was held in Senator Quay's rooms last night, at which Senator Quay himself, Mark Hanna, Mr. Hahn, national committeemen from Ohio; Hobart of New Jersey, Samuel Fessenden of Connecticut and W. Andrews of Pennsylvania were present, and at which it was practically arranged that Mr. Quay should retire from the contest for the presidency. He said the contests which were now under consideration by the national committee were of little or no consequence, because it was evident that McKinley already had over 500 uncontested votes, making it evident that the people demanded his nomination. He acquiesced in the suggestion that McKinley should be nominated by acclamation, and said the sooner the convention performed its work and adjourned the better it would be.

TELLER'S PLAIN TALK.

Absolutely Will Not Support a Gold Man at St. Louis, Party or No Party.

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 13.—Senator Teller remained here last night, en route from Washington to St. Louis. Senator Teller said:

"I think that McKinley will be the nominee on a gold-standard platform. When the republican state convention of Colorado was in session I telegraphed them that I did not desire to go to St. Louis, but that if my party sent me I would not support a gold-standard candidate for president on a gold-standard platform or on a platform of doubtful import, or in other words a straddle. Not only did the convention elect me, but instructed the other delegates to be governed by my action."

SENATOR TELLER.

"Will any of the other silver senators from the west refuse to support a gold-standard man?"

"Certainly."

"You have no idea that Senator Carter of Montana, chairman of the republican national committee, will refuse to support the ticket under such circumstances?"

"Yes he will, and so will Dubois, Mantle and Cannon."

"Would you support a free-silver democrat as against a gold republican?"

"Really I do not wish to be interviewed on that point now. I go to St. Louis as a republican, representing the republicans of my state. The republican party has not yet put itself on record as a gold-standard party, and until that time I have nothing to say further than my record before the Colorado state convention."

"All the tariff in the world won't help this country without the free and unlimited coinage of silver. If the republicans should elect McKinley on a tariff platform the times would not improve and in two years the discontent of the people would wipe the party out of existence."

SHORTENS THE TIME.

National Committee Adopts a Plan to Hurry Contests.

St. Louis, June 13.—The national committee was rather slow in getting together on Friday. On motion of Mr. Scott of West Virginia, the time for the presentation of the cases of claimants to seats in contest was reduced from fifteen to ten minutes by a vote of 25 to 19. Notice was given of the withdrawal of the contest from the eighth Virginia district. W. B. G. Shumate and H. Y. Wale were therefore declared entitled to seats. They are instructed for McKinley. The committee then began consideration of the Mississippi contests, beginning with the sixth district. The contestants, C. A. Simson and George F. Bowles, the Lynch men, were seated. They are friendly to McKinley.

Three other McKinley delegates from Mississippi were seated. The Louisiana contests were then considered. Ten McKinley and four Reed delegates were seated. The third district of Virginia was taken up. Edward Waddill, Jr., and C. W. Harris (McKinley) were seated without argument.

The Delaware contest was next. One of the delegations, claiming to be the regular one, is headed by ex-Senator Anthony Higgins and the other by J. E. Addicks. The time for the presentation of this case was increased to twenty minutes for each side. The committee decided to seat neither of the contesting delegations from Delaware.

Basis of Representation.

St. Louis, June 13.—National Committee Payne will press his resolution for a different representation in the national conventions. He wants the national committee to recommend to the convention the following: "Resolved, That the national committee recommend to the convention that hereafter the basis of representation from the several states shall be fixed at four delegates-at-large and one additional delegate for each 7,000 votes, or majority fraction thereof, cast in each state for the republican electoral ticket at the last preceding election, and that each territory and the District of Columbia be entitled to six delegates. The scenes through which the national committee has passed during the few days it has been considering contests will probably influence them favorably to consider Mr. Payne's resolutions.

HAVE HOPE FOR HASTINGS.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 13.—Governor Hastings and a party of friends started from this city at noon Friday in a special car attached to the Pennsylvania

Railroad's Niagara Express for St. Louis, to attend the republican national convention. Governor Hastings' friends believe he has a splendid chance of being the nominee of the convention for vice-president. Treasurer Haywood says if Senator Quay is not given the presidential nomination the Pennsylvania delegation will insist on Mr. Hastings' selection for second place.

Demand High Tariff.

American Protective Tariff League Leads at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—Headed by Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the republican national committee and president of the Union League club of New York, a delegation from the American Protective Tariff league reached St. Louis late Friday night. Mr. Bliss at once called on Mr. Hanna. Their discussion related to the progress of the national committee's work on the contests and the development of the McKinley boom.

"As a tariff league," said Secretary Wakeman, "our sole concern is relative to the tariff plank. Of its insertion in the platform we have no doubt," he continued, smilingly. "It is safe to say the proper resolutions will be reported. As individuals, the members of the party may be regarded as forming a strong McKinley contingent. We are said that Mr. Fairbanks would be acceptable and that was all."

Gen. Butterfield Is Willing.
Syracuse, N. Y., June 13.—Gen. Daniel Butterfield of New York passed through the city last night en route for St. Louis. He said he was a candidate for the republican nomination for vice-president.

"Really I do not wish to be interviewed on that point now. I go to St. Louis as a republican, representing the republicans of my state. The republican party has not yet put itself on record as a gold-standard party, and until that time I have nothing to say further than my record before the Colorado state convention."

"All the tariff in the world won't help this country without the free and unlimited coinage of silver. If the republicans should elect McKinley on a tariff platform the times would not improve and in two years the discontent of the people would wipe the party out of existence."

OPPOSITION TO MAKE TROUBLE.

Combination to Force an Ultra-Gold Platform Upon McKinley.

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—The movements of the men who are opposed to McKinley have been very quiet, but it is understood that since the arrival of Mr. Quay there has been a conference of men representing the different candidates, those present being Platt for Mr. Morton, Quay for himself, Henderson for Mr. Allison and an eastern man representing Mr. Reed. It was understood that the conference was not with any hope of defeating the nomination of McKinley, because Mr. Quay and Mr. Manley have already conceded the nomination of the Ohio man on the first ballot, but that it was proposed to prepare a platform on the money question which was to be insisted upon at all hazards, and to give it to the McKinley men as one of the demands of the opposition.

It was understood that the declaration was to be unequivocally for gold. In this connection it is said that the declaration will be so pronounced that it will not be acceptable to the great middle west, which is here solid for McKinley, and may precipitate a fight.

Fairbanks Talks for Gold.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 13.—The Hon. C. W. Fairbanks of Indianapolis, who is to be temporary chairman of the St. Louis convention, spent yesterday with Mr. McKinley at Canton and started for St. Louis last night. He was seen by the Associated press correspondent on the train and asked what he regarded as the probable action of the convention on the money question.

"I am of the opinion that the convention will declare unequivocally for sound money. I should not be at all surprised to see it adopt the financial plank of the Indiana platform."

"Will the tariff or the money question be the issue of the campaign?"

"Both. But I expect to see the tariff dominate before the campaign is over."

Will Have Silver or Nothing.

Omaha, Neb., June 13.—A. S. Robertson of Nampa, Idaho, one of the delegates from that state to the St. Louis convention, is in the city on the way thither. He is a free-silver republican and says if his party declares against silver, as now seems probable, he will not carry a county in Idaho, and what is true of that state is true of all the western states. He says the populists and free-silver democrats can very nearly carry Idaho anyway, but with a platform against silver the republicans never will know they had a ticket in the field.

THREATENS TO BOLT.

Thomas C. Platt Makes a Play for His New York Delegates.

St. Louis, June 13.—There are in circulation reports that Thomas C. Platt had declared his intention of bolting or walking out of the convention if the six contestants from New York should be seated. It is learned from members of the national committee that in all probability the six Platt men will be thrown out and the other men placed on the temporary roll. The report of what Platt had said was reported to Mr. Hanna, and he declined to discuss the matter in any way.

"I shall not get excited over this, even if Mr. Platt said it," Mr. Hanna remarked, and when assured that Platt had made the remark he was not disturbed. Members of the national committee think the talk of a New York bolt is wholly for the purpose of the influence it may have on the decision of contests yet to be decided.

CARTER WILL NOT BOLT.

Will Hold Aloof from Silver Men in Case of Schism.

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—Chairman Carter will not join in a free-silver bolt of the St. Louis convention. He said to a reporter:

"I have advised Senators Dubois and Teller not to bolt; to make an honest, straight-forward fight for silver, as I am doing, and then acquiesce in the will of the majority of republicans in the silver states. I believe there will be a bolt—certainly not a significant one. The platform? It will either be the Indiana platform slightly modified or a straight-forward gold standard declaration. Mr. Hanna insists that the words 'gold' and 'free silver' shall not appear in the platform and his wishes will probably prevail, thus giving us the Indiana platform."

Says He Didn't Select Fairbanks.

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—It has been positively denied that the McKinley management has urged the selection of Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana for temporary chairman of the convention. Marcus A. Hanna so stated. He said that Mr. Fairbanks would be acceptable and that was all.

Gen. Butterfield Is Willing.
Pittsburg, Pa., June 13.—Gen. Daniel Butterfield of New York passed through the city last night en route for St. Louis. He said he was a candidate for the republican nomination for vice-president.

"Really I do not wish to be interviewed on that point now. I go to St. Louis as a republican, representing the republicans of my state. The republican party has not yet put itself on record as a gold-standard party, and until that time I have nothing to say further than my record before the Colorado state convention."

THE TRADE REVIEW IS OUT.

Market Is Dull and Conservative, R. G. Dun & Co. Say.

New York, June 13.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Speculative reaction has not in the least changed the business outlook. The fictitious prices made for wheat and cotton meant no good except for individuals, and the change to prices more nearly in accord with actual relations of demand and supply only conforms to conditions which have been well known for months. The attack on stocks on Wednesday was so plainly artificial that its influence passed with the day, and neither in foreign relations nor in domestic business was there anything to justify alarm.

The government report as to wheat indicated a much smaller yield than anybody really expects, but that has become so much the rule that the report had no real influence, and the principal effect was the serious depression caused by large sales in anticipation of the report which seemed to be thoroughly known in advance to some speculators. While Atlantic exports for the week were 1,588,158 bushels, flour included, against only 809,539 bushels last year, the comparison is obviously exceptional and significant, while the receipts at western ports of 2,429,345 bushels, against 1,386,230 bushels last year, show persistency of conditions which have governed the movements during the whole year.

The government estimate as to cotton was unexpectedly favorable, and has caused a decline of more than half a cent in a single week, but it is only just to say that some reaction from artificial prices would have come earlier if information much more reliable than that of the government had not been persistently discredited.

It is not the time to look for marked improvement in industries, and the best thing that can be said of them is that none have as yet been seriously disturbed by the threatened labor difficulties. It seems not improbable that all such difficulties may be averted, except, perhaps, the controversy about wages of iron puddlers and tin plate workers.

The textile manufacturers are making no improvement. The accumulation of cotton goods continues, print cloths have declined to the lowest point ever reached, and a general stoppage to relieve the market is expected. Sales of wool in two weeks of June have been only 5,823,500 pounds, against 12,561,965 last year, and no gain is expected in the manufacture for some time to come.

Failures for the week have been 246 in the United States, against 241 last year, and twenty-seven in Canada, against twenty-four last year.

The room and the table was tastefully decorated, and the banquet lamps were used for illumination. The banquet was served after the program, and the feast was handled by G. A. Shurtleff. Eleven young ladies from the class of '96 waited upon the tables very prettily. They were Misses Harriet Bostwick, Josephine Farnsworth, Tessie Gibbons, Luella Croft, Luella Conroy, Kittie Enright, Lucy Akin, Jessie Scfield, Cecil Gateley, Maud Day and Mabel Harper.

President Clemons' Remarks

President Fred L. Clemons delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the Alumni Association. The class of '96, he said, had been transferred from the school institution to the battle of life, and the week past had marked an epoch in their lives. He spoke of the exceptional advantages afforded the pupils, and of the great possibilities that lay before them.

"It is your privilege, it is your duty to so use those advantages," he said, in closing, "that the lustre of the American public school system may not be dimmed. In the name of our association and in the spirit of advancement universal we bid you welcome and ask that you co-operate with us that the interests of education shall be guarded that the light of our city high school may endure."

Bernard M. Palmer's Response.

Bernard M. Palmer, president of the class of '96, delivered the response. He said that the class had enjoyed facilities for study that no other class had ever enjoyed, and the improvement resulting had been a matter of common remark. Still the old High School would be ever dear to the class.

"We are indebted to the enlightened policy and good sense of Prof. Mayne for the fact that so many of us who started in the race have run the full course. He said "By establishing debating societies, fostering class spirit and inaugurating annual contests he has made us feel in a practical manner that it is a privilege and not drudgery to attend the High school. Whenever interest in our work failed, he was always ready with a word of timely advice which started us again on our way. It is with great regret that we part with such an excellent an instructor and friend."

In closing he expressed the appreciation of the class of hospitality offered by the Alumni.

After Miss Alice Whiffen had sung "Fleeting Days" in a thoroughly artistic manner, President Goldin, of the school board spoke.

Mr. Goldin's Remarks.

Mr. Goldin said he had enjoyed the commencement exercises this year, but he could not help from feeling sorry when he thought of the advantages of these days as compared to those of his school life. He was not quite the oldest settler in the city, but when he went to school the apparatus was so crude that no one ever expected an experiment to turn out twice the same way. They thought they had mastered the whole science of botany when they could tell a watermelon from a citron on a dark night. Several of his former instructors, notably Professor Salisbury, of the Whitewater normal school, had since risen to high positions in the ranks of educators, and they had frequently told him that the training they had received in trying to get some small ideas of different subjects into his brain, had been of vast value to them. He was proud that he had been material in thus promoting educational advancement, and closed with well-wishes to the class.

The Other Numbers.
Miss Marie McClellan then rendered a piano solo in a thoroughly artistic manner, and was given enthusiastic applause.

Mrs. O. H. Brand then read an original poem, entitled "Life's Happy Hours," that was composed of well rounded lines and was much enjoyed.

Miss Cora Anderson's sweet voice was heard to advantage in her rendition of Bemberg's "Nymphs and Fawns," and an enthusiastic encore was given her, although she did not respond.

The class song was sung before the banquet, and following the feast, came dancing to the music of Smith's orchestra.

Mrs. C. F. Yates played the accompaniment for the vocal numbers.

The Caledonian Society, through Dr. James Mills, kindly donated the use of their rooms, and Joseph L. Vankirk and Henry Scott were in charge.

The event was a fitting finale to commencement week, and was rarely successful from all points of view.

STATE SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Four Members of the Class Are Expert Piano Tuners.

The graduating exercises of the State School for the Blind yesterday afternoon were exceptionally interesting and showed the successful work of the school. Among the graduates were four young men as piano tuners who have served a four years' course and are thoroughly qualified for their work. The school, founded nearly half a century ago, is recognized as one of the best of its class in the country.

The school for a number of years had an annual enrollment of about eighty-five but for the past few years has increased; the enrollment this year being 116. This is small when it is considered that the blind population of the state in 1890 was 1,200 and when today it probably exceeds that number by 300. The attendance, however, compares favorably with other states. The blind population of the United States five years ago was 50,000, and less than 4,000 were enrolled in the thirty-five state schools.

The opera house was tastefully decorated and the teachers occupied the boxes, while seated upon the stage with the class were President Hans B. Warner, president of the board of control, J. E. Heg, a member of the board, Supt. H. F. Bliss, Rev. Sabin Halsey and Mrs. M. D. Jones, teacher of music and leader of the orchestra.

TWO BAD ACCIDENTS

Peter Connors and Fred Feltz, Jr., Are Hurt by the Same Train

Two men were hurt by the same gravel train last night. They were:

CONNORS, PETER, concussion of the brain, and cuts on the head. Taken home.

FELTZ, FRED, JR., left leg cut off and painful bruises. Taken to Oak Lawn hospital.

Both men had been working on the Chicago & Northwestern gravel train, in ballasting up the track near Shoreline. Feltz tried to board the train near Shoreline, and fell under the wheels, his left foot being ground off. He was placed on the engine, and the train started for the city. Connors was riding on the water tank of the engine. Near the city some cattle got on the track, and the engineer blew four sharp blasts on the whistle. This startled Connors, and fearing an accident, he jumped.

Struck on His Head.

The train was running at a good rate of speed, and Connors was whirled through the air, landing on his head. The train was stopped as soon as possible, and Connors was picked up. All speed was made for the city, and on the arrival of the train, the fire patrol ambulance was called. Connors was taken to the home of his father, Dudley Connors, corner Western avenue and the Afton road, where Dr. J. F. Pember and Dr. James Gibson attended him. They found that he was suffering from concussion of the brain, as well as numerous cuts and bruises about the head, and his case was considered quite dangerous. He was conscious when the train reached this city, but afterward became insensible, and did not recover consciousness all night.

Connors was formerly a motorman on the street railway.

Feltz's Leg Cut Off.

Feltz was taken to Oak Lawn hospital after Connors had been removed to his home, where Dr. E. F. Woods, the company's surgeon, assisted by Dr. Joe Whiting and Frank Farnsworth, amputated the leg between the ankle and the knee.

Feltz is about eighteen years of age, and is the son of Fred Feltz, the merchant tailor. He has been living with his mother on North Jackson street. He had lost considerable blood.

Both the injured men were much better this afternoon.

The end of the fracas, it is said, is not yet, but Johnson's baggage has been taken from the Evansville house, the score has been paid, and he is now making his home elsewhere.

Mr. Simerson is very well liked at Evansville. His injuries are painful, but not serious.

Boys Are Arrested.

Clark pleaded guilty to the charge when he was arraigned before Justice W. R. Phillips and was sentenced to the reform school for five years, or until he became of legal age.

Loomis pleaded not guilty and the trial was set for June 18 and his bail fixed at $150.

BALL GAME ON NEXT TUESDAY.

Doctors and Dentists Change the Date of The Conflict.

The great ball game between the doctors and the dentists will occur on next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock instead of Wednesday as was first arranged. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged, but the game will be worth it, as both nines insist that the victory will be theirs.

Some Porter News.

Porter, June 12.—Mr. and Mrs.

John Collins are rejoicing over the safe arrival of a daughter. All going finely.

Some of our young people attended the ball given in Albany for the benefit of the church, on last Friday evening, and report a fine time. There were over eighty couples in attendance. The C. K. of Wisconsin branch held their semi-annual meeting at the home of M. Ford, last Sunday. Miss Julie McCarthy spent last week with friends in Janesville. John Connors, W. T. Dooley and James Dawson, all of Janesville, spent Sunday here. A number from here attended the Woodmen's picnic in Janesville on last Wednesday. Don't forget the date of the Ladies' T. A. Society dance in Fulton, on June 19. A good deal of tobacco is being set this week. Crops in general are looking fine, although farmers think the hay yield will be very light.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

POLLS ARE OPEN
FOR C.E. BALLOTS
CONDITIONS ARRANGED BY LOCAL ENDEAVORERS.

It Had Been Intended to Limit the Vote to Coupons Cut From the Paper But An Allowance On New Subscriptions Has Been Made By General Request.

June 1 the polls opened for the Christian Endeavor convention ballots. Somebody will go to Washington as The Gazette's guest next month.

Who it is to be the vote will determine.

It was intended at first to have no voting except by coupons clipped from the paper. The premium allowed for new subscribers in the piano contest two years ago, was a source of complaint, so many blocks of votes being transferred from one candidate to another at the last moment. Consultation with members of the three local Christian Endeavor societies, however, resulted in a change of plan. It was urged by all the young people interviewed that allowance be made for new subscribers as well as for coupons. Their arguments decided the matter but it was determined that no voters should be transferred after being once recorded. The conditions of the vote will be as follows:

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote.

Cut out the coupon (trimming on the dotted lines.) Write in the name of your candidate, and send to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

None but members of the Janesville Christian Endeavor societies are eligible as candidates. The winner will have railroad and Pullman fare paid from Janesville to Washington and will have hotel expenses paid throughout the convention.

Votes may be sent in at any time. The polls close July 1 at 9 o'clock p.m.

The votes allowed on new subscriptions paid in advance will be:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day, and vote in the regular manner.

No person shall be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address. In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers. No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday, start it again Tuesday and claim the premium.

A GOOD PRACTICE.

If You Want a Good Appetite and Perfect Digestion.

After each meal dissolve one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in the mouth and, mingling with the food, they constitute a perfect digestive, absolutely safe for the most sensitive stomach.

They digest the food before it has time to ferment, thus preventing the formation of gas and keeping the blood pure and free from the poisonous products of fermented half-digested food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets make the complexion clear by keeping the blood pure.

They increase flesh by digesting flesh-forming foods.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the only remedy designed especially for the cure of stomach troubles and nothing else.

One disease, one remedy, the successful physician of to-day is the specialist, the successful medicine is the medicine prepared especially for one disease.

A whole package taken at one time would be a waste of good material.

Over six thousand men and women in the state of Michigan alone have been cured of indigestion and dyspepsia by the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Sold by all druggists at 50 cents per pack- age.

ODD STORIES OF THE PICNIC.
Couple On a Roof—Accused of Kidnapping—Had An Ingrowing Toe Nail.

Some odd stories of the big picnic are now being reported. A local couple, in order to get a good view of the parade, made their way to the top of the Armory roof, but while they were enjoying themselves, Janitor Root removed the ladder, not knowing that they were there. It was some time before Janitor Root heard the man's call, although his voice was of an able bodied brand.

At the Highland Hotel, a lady was crying and nearly frantic because she had lost her little three year old daughter in the crowd. Big hearted Charles Randal, got a description of the little girl, and after going a block he met a miss who answered the description. He took the little tot in his arms and was going back to the hotel when a lady stopped him and accused him of being a kidnapper. He had taken the wrong child and it was some moments before he could straighten the matter out and explain that the description tallied.

Fire Insurance.

Seven Massachusetts Mutual Fire Insurance Companies wrote policies during 1894, amounting to $97,705.

At its close they were carrying $244,000,000. These seven companies average 54 years of age, and are old enough to know what they are doing.

The Beloit Fire Insurance Company of Beloit, Wis., was organized June 5, 1895, to secure insurance on first-class risks, in the cities and villages of Rock, Green, Dane, Jefferson and Walworth counties, Wis., at actual cost and limited expenses on the plan of these Eastern mutuals. This company began to write insurance August 1, 1895. It is now ten months old, carrying over $400,000 of insurance. Its losses have all been adjusted and paid, and, if no greater in the future than in the past, over one-half of the premium that has been paid in for the year will belong to the insured at its close. There are many instances in Beloit and other places where as a result of the work of this company, agents of stock companies are already writing insurance on business risks at the 1892 rate. We shall save at five prominent insurers in Beloit, not less than $225 a year. Now, if you think you are paying to the companies too high a rate, drop a card to the above address and ask for information, at the same time letting them know when you have a policy expiring and what on.

THE MONEY PLANK.

"We believe that our money should not be inferior to the money of the most enlightened nations of the earth. We are unalterably opposed to every scheme that threatens to debase or depreciate our currency. We favor the use of silver as currency; but to the extent only and under such regulations that its parity with gold can be maintained, and in consequence are opposed to the free and unlimited and independent coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1."

This is the financial plank in favor of which the sentiment of the majority seems to be crystallizing. It is the Indiana platform and the Missouri platform. It very closely resembles the financial declarations of the other states lying between the Alleghanies and the Rockies. This great middle ground of the country is the dominating influence in the Republican National Convention of 1896. It has brought about the selection of a majority of the delegates pledged to McKinley. It will make the platform, if there is anything in present indications.

A study of the financial planks of the various state platforms in this great section shows a remarkable similarity in views. The expressions, "We are firm and emphatic in our demands for honest money," "We believe that our money should not be inferior to that of the most enlightened nation of the earth," "We are opposed to any scheme that threatens to depreciate our currency," "We favor the use of silver under such regulations that its parity with gold can be maintained," "A currency of gold, silver and paper, as sound as the government and untarnished as its honor," run through all of them.

The Ohio platform, which was one of the earliest adopted, declared for "honest money, and that a currency of gold, silver and paper, with which to measure our exchange; that shall be as sound as the government itself and as untarnished as its honor."

The Wisconsin plank declared the republicans of that state "unyielding in their demand for honest money," and desiring the fullest practicable use of silver, "but to the extent only and under such restrictions that its parity with gold can be maintained," and Wisconsin yields to no state in its demand for a sound currency.

Is Janesville, the very stronghold of the Cleveland democracy, to be cajoled by free silver men? The boasts heard after last night's democratic caucuses sounded that way. Where is the astute assistant secretary of war? Where the puissant provender purchaser of the war department? Have those mighty men no influence in Janesville? Is the gospel of the Duck Shooter to be a dead letter in the house of its friends?

The republican party is greater than the ambition of any one man. A place upon the national ticket has never been declined, and it will not be. The ticket that is nominated at St. Louis will be the ticket that will be elected in November, unless death shall prevent.

The Georgia Colonel—Evan Howell, of the Atlanta Constitution—to the Kentucky Colonel—Henri Star-eyed-goddess Watterson: "Hi there! I'm in it, and you're out of it. Ta ta, old fellow."

Somebody makes a suggestion which is timely. Namely, that Senator Sherman will not be a member of the St. Louis convention. Numerous people seem to have overlooked this fact.

A great many democrats are acting as though they expected to be buried at the Chicago convention.

Don Dickinson may conclude to shave his whiskers off before he is at tends the Chicago convention; he fears that the silver men may do him personal violence.

As N. K. Fairbank makes his money out of grease it isn't strange that he should have let some of it slip away in an attempt to lubricate the progress of a theatrical star.

You always know where to find the republican party on the important questions of tariff and finance; it is for a protective tariff and a 100-cent dollar all the time.

The more the record of the first session of the Fifty-fourth congress is studied, the greater the credit that will be given the republican house.

Joe Blackburn's presidential boom was put forth merely as evidence that he had succeeded in spiking the Cavalier guns.

On to St. Louis is now the republican slogan; later 'twill be on to Washington.

All good republicans are worshiping at the shrine of Saint Louis.

PLANNING FOR JULY 4

Committee Call on Business Men To Arrange For Displays in the Parade.

A committee of four, consisting of A. E. Matheson, J. C. Kline, W. E. Clinton and C. S. Cleland, made their first canvass of the city this morning, in the interest of the Fourth of July celebration, to be managed by the Epworth League, Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor and the Baptist Young People's Union of Rock county. A majority of business men who were seen promised to provide something interesting for the parade and the indications point to a big jollification.

DEATH ENDS EARTHLY WOES

Mrs. Herbert L. Palmer.

Mrs. Herbert L. Palmer died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Palmer, at 5 o'clock last evening, aged twenty-four years, her demise being the result of consumption.

Elinor Jensen was born in Denmark October 19, 1871. She came to America with her parents when she was eight years old, and when she was twelve years of age her mother died. As a girl she made her home at Dwight, Ill., where she was married to H. L. Palmer, September 18, 1894. Early in February, 1895, she suffered a severe attack of the grip, from which she never recovered. It early developed into consumption and later her heart became affected. A southern trip failed to be of any substantial benefit, and she grew gradually worse. The last few weeks of her life had been painful ones, yet her Christian spirit enabled her to bear her sufferings patiently, and her cheerful disposition made her hopeful and patient to the last. Yesterday she had several sinking spells, and during one of them death came.

Besides the young husband, whose heart is crushed under this burden of sorrow, she leaves a father, a stepmother and three sisters, Misses Lou, Agnes and Clara Jensen all of Dwight, Ill.; also one brother, Alfred C. Jensen of Benton Harbor, Mich.

Mrs. Palmer had entered most actively into the work of the Epworth League and Sunday school of Court Street M. E. church, of which she was a conscientious and consistent member. Her willing hands aided every enterprise of the church most nobly, while her sweet disposition and lovable nature made her home a place of brightness and cheer.

The funeral will be held from the home, 153 South Jackson street at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Haisley will officiate, and the interment will be made at Oak Hill.

Miss Mary Murphy.

After a lingering illness of five weeks' duration, Miss Mary Murphy died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, at the home of her brother-in-law John Dempsey, 210 Cherry street. Miss Murphy was born and raised in Janesville, and has always made this city her home. Funeral services will be held from the house tomorrow afternoon, and from St. Patrick's church at 2 o'clock. The interment will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Daniel Strunk.

Mark Ripley received word today of the death of his brother-in-law, Daniel Strunk, at Riverside, California, June 9. Mr. Strunk went to California for his health sometime ago, but has been failing steadily for months. A wife and one son survive him. The remains are to be laid to rest in Minneapolis, by the side of his daughter.

BAPTIST CHURCH MADE $125

A Neat Profit Was Realized for Woodmen's Day Work

The Baptist ladies prepared to feed 600 people on Woodmen's day. They served 520 meals and cleared $100. In addition they sold twenty-eight gallons of ice cream, on which, and the cake that went with it, they made a profit of $25. Their total profit was therefore, $125.

A woman never really knows the meaning of happiness and content until she is the mother of a healthy, happy child. The health of the child depends on the health of the mother, both before and after birth. Most all of woman's weakness and particularly the weakness that most strongly influences the health of children, comes from some derangement or disease of the distinctly feminine organs. Dr. Pierce's favorite prescription will cure all troubles of this nature. It should be taken regularly by every woman during the entire period of gestation. It gives strength to all the organs involved, lessens the pains of child-birth and insures the health of both mother and child.

A SILVER SPLIT AND BAD WORDS

Red Hot Time at Democratic Convention at Court House.

WHITE MENTAL MEN LEAVE THE ROOM.

Organize a Convention by Themselves, and Choose a Set of Delegates Headed by John Winans—Gold List Led by J. B. Whiting's Name—Richard Valentine Roasts Clinton Babbitt—Fists Are Waived in the Air by Leaders of Opposing Factions Silver men and sound money men locked horns in the democratic county convention this afternoon.

Excited men waved their fists under each other's noses.

Threats to punch were made.

The air grew blue, and so thick you could cut it.

Then there was a bolt.

For a few moments there were two conventions in session.

Clay W. Metsker was chairman in one end of the room with Clinton Babbitt seconding him.

Frank R. Morris was chairman of the other.

"Move we adjourn!" yelled some body on the Metsker side.

Chairman Metsker put the motion with a rush.

Silver Game Failed.

His side of the room said "Aye" No objection was heard, and the Metsker delegates began to get their hats. They saw the rest of the convention hadn't adjourned to any extent, however, so they decided to stay.

Frank Morris was still in the chair. He smiled and smiled. His smile reminded many of the cat that ate the canary.

The moment the permanent organization was made the silver men tried a new trick. Editor Metsker moved that the convention separate into three assembly district caucuses and name delegates to the state convention. This was manifestly a blow at the unit rule and an effort to let Beloit free silverites name the state delegates in the Beloit assembly district. The move was countered by A. M. Valentine's motion to have delegates named by a committee appointed by the chair.

Roast for Babbitt

The two motions brought out an hour of Fourth of July oratory.

Editor Metsker and Attorney Buckley fumed and fulminated in vain. Their plan got no favor and Clinton Babbitt came to the rescue with a compromise measure—two delegates to be named by each assembly district and two by the convention at large.

A moment later Mr. Babbitt was on the grid.

Richard Valentine jumped to his feet and denied the ex-congressman's right to call himself a democratic war horse.

"He says he has received many kicks," said Valentine. "He hasn't had half as many as he ought to have for voting against the Mills bill."

White Metal Men Left.

The proposition to have delegates named by a committee of seven whom the chair should name, was carried with a whoop. Editor Metsker's call for a poll of the convention was disregarded, and Delegates Metsker, Babbitt, Buckley and nine others from Beloit marched out with great dignity.

The Gold Delegates.

The gold, or Morris convention, continued to do business at the old stand after the silver crowd left, and named delegates as follows:

J. B. Whiting, V. P. Richardson and A. M. Valentine of Jamesville, Thomas Ellingson of Edgerton, P. H. Crahen, John Cunningham of Beloit, and Henry Moelenpaugh of Clinton.

Ironclad gold instructions were also adopted unanimously.

The Silver Delegates.

The "silver men" met and organized in the hallway below, and named the following delegates:

John Winans, William Smith, Alvah Maxfield and F. C. Burpee of this city; Clinton Babbitt, Clay W. Metsker and Eugene Cannon, Beloit; A. W. Dibble, Evansville.

Con Buckley was chairman, and William Wonderly secretary.

THE CAUCUSES LAST EVENING Gold Standard Resolution Adopted In the Third Ward.

The democratic ward caucuses were held last night. At the Third ward caucus, V. P. Richardson introduced the following resolution which was adopted:

"We are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, except by international agreement, and until such agreement can be obtained we believe that the present gold standard should be maintained."

The results were as follows:

EDITOR WILLEY requests The Gazette to state that S. B. Heddles is not the sole owner of The Jamesville Tobacco Leaf, as stated in the Recorder this morning. Mr. Heddles has a controlling interest, but J. F. Willey and four others have stock in the paper, and they will all work together to make the Leaf the best tobacco paper in the west.

THE Woodmen's picnic is a thing of the past, but the day will long be remembered by many strangers who visited the city. Many were the exclamations of surprise and wonderment when passing the "Big Store," to think a town of Jamesville's population could support a store of such magnitude. Their windows did attract not only strangers but the town people, and as many were heard to remark, compared with any city windows.

"We are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, except by international agreement, and until such agreement can be obtained we believe that the present gold standard should be maintained."

The results were as follows:

FIRST WARD.

Horace McElroy was chairman, and M. J. Sullivan secretary.

Jamesville will have another new metallic telephone line which will not only give better county service, but will provide direct communication with central Wisconsin via Madison.

Manager Willits of the local office has received notice from Milwaukee that the company has finally decided to give Jamesville another long distance line at a large expense.

Superintendent of Construction T. J. Gallagher was in the city yesterday, having made the overland trip from the Capital City. The route of the new line as now mapped out, will be through Indian Ford, Edgerton, Stoughton and Oregon. Work will commence in a few days and it is expected that the wires will be in working order by next August.

As a metallic circuit is a great improvement over the ordinary wire and as the Jamesville business with the towns mentioned is large, the improvement will be appreciated by people who use the toll wire.

MY QUEEN.

Dear wife and perfect friend, my household queen,
With watchful care making my home so dear
That all my work mere pastime doth appear;
But by thy fair face in my room be seen,
And the soft voice's music intervene,
Like melody itself the brain to clear
Of overspun tissue of thought's atmosphere
By gracious fancies where God's hand hath been—
Man cannot rise, or so I think, to heights
Where spirits pure as thine unconscious move
Till that white Purity's exceeding lights
The grosser spirit's earthly strain reprove
And the best angel of Jehovah's lights.
Arm us anew with his whole armor—Love.—

UNAWARES.

When I was introduced to her, I was standing in the balcony of the swimming tank at Santa Cruz, watching the greenery yallery water beneath and the black human frogs awkwardly gamboling therein. I dislike being introduced to people at or in swimming tanks, but as Mrs. Richbody introduced her I had to be civil. (Mrs. Richbody has a very good cook—much better than the chef at the hotel where I am staying.)

So I found her a chair and we sat down.

Out of the corner of my eye I saw her hitch her chair a little closer to mine as she adjusted her skirts. Like all the girls this season, she wears those abominable godets behind, that stick out like the cowcatcher of a locomotive, and they need careful management.

Before she had spoken six words I murmured to myself: "Ah, that explains it. You are a German."

"Explains what?" she asked sharply.
"You are a German," I repeated.
"Pray go on. I am interested in your remarks."

"Most foreigners take me for French," she said.

I merely smiled and dropped the ashes of my cigar into the upturned eye of my tailor in the tank below, who had had the impertinence to forward me his little account from the city.

"Most foreigners," she repeated.
"Excuse me," said I, "but where are we?"

"In the swimming tank."
"No; at the swimming tank, but in the United States of America."

Just then the band played "Der Wacht am Rhein."

"It's true, all the same," I said as the last strain died away. "We're in America, though I sometimes find it hard to realize it."

Caroline frowned and made a delicious little pucker in her white forehead. (I call her Caroline now. All this was five days ago.)

"The best blood you have is German," she said.

"I think not," I replied. "My grandmother was a Frenchwoman."

"So was mine," she said softly.

The silence was broken only by the barking of a human seal in the tank below—a poor imitation and much more vulgar than the original.

At length Caroline said, "I'm sorry you dislike the Germans."

"I don't. As individuals I have many friends among them, but as a nation"—I blew a light whiff that vanished into thin air.

"You're not very entertaining or very complimentary. Indeed, you're rather rude, and I think I'll go," she said.

She rose and gave her pipe organ plaita a preliminary shake.

"Don't go," I said mildly. "I said nothing!"

"I agree with you," she answered cheerfully, and sat down again with a satisfied smile.

Now, I confess that just for a moment I felt foolish. Never a man, never a child and seldom a woman has made me feel foolish. And this woman had made me feel foolish—for a moment. I was annoyed, and, I fear, showed it, for I gave a little start (I was so surprised at her audacity, you know), and dropped my lighted cigar into the swimming tank. It fell on the bald head of my tailor (Stultzwurzel), and made him swear prodigiously. That was some satisfaction.

"I think we'd better go and take a turn on the beach," said I, rising. "The air seems warm and stuffy here."

"Not at all," she replied, settling back snugly and tapping the toe of a very small tan slipper with the parasol.

"It seems very comfortable here to me. But perhaps you suffer from headache?"

"No," said I; "that's not the trouble. My nose is out of joint."

"Poor Slawkenbergius," she murmured.

Now, this was more extraordinary than anything she had said before. That a young girl brought up among the Germans—that strange people who drink lager beer, love sauerkraut and write volumes on such thrilling topics as Assonantal Rimes for Hors in the old German epic—that a girl so educated should show acquaintance with a belle lettres writer so essentially non-German as Sterne—this was even more remarkable than her impudent remark about my having said "nothing."

I was proceeding to light a fresh cigar when she interrupted coolly:

"I don't like smoking, Mr. Legend."

I looked at her in amazement.

"But you are a German," I said.

"Surely all Germans!"

"Have you ever been in Germany?" she asked.

Now, here she had me again. No, I have never been in Germany, but I wasn't going to confess it without a struggle, so I evasively replied, "I have been in Sleswick-Holstein."

"That's hardly Germany" (this rather disdainfully).

"I'm glad to hear you confess it," said I. "I've always maintained that Sleswick-Holstein is a piece of Denmark which the Germans stole."

"It's false," she burst out, with flashing eyes. "Ever since the time of Charlemagne Sleswick-Holstein has been—but what's the use of arguing with you?"

You're a prejudiced American with French blood in your veins, and you'll never appreciate the Germans."

"I think more of them than I did ten minutes ago," said I, gazing at her admiringly. Her color had risen with her excitement and with the heat of that little tan slipper she was vehemently beating the floor.

"Thank you," she said, recovering her good humor. (There's nothing fetches a woman like a compliment.) "And after all, Mr. Legend, it's a matter of perfect indifference to me what you think about the Germans."

"Quite so," said I. "But I like to get at the truth on any subject I investigate, and as you seem well posted perhaps you'll let me come around this evening and get some more information from you."

"I don't know about that on such short acquaintance," she said. "Nobody's vouches to me for your respectability and one meets all kinds of queer people at the seaside."

I pointed to Mrs. Richbody, who was on the floor just below us, anxiously watching her only boy take a swimming lesson.

"If that lady vouches for me, will you let me come?"

"Of course; I'm staying at her cottage."

"Mrs. Richbody!" called I.

"Yes," replied the anxious mother, with one eye on her darling.

"Am I respectable?"

"What?"

"Am I respectable?"

Little Algernon Richbody gave a yell as he lost his footing in two feet of water and disappeared. His mother screamed also, only louder, and I could get no attention until Algernon had been hauled up from the bottom and carried off howling to his dressing room.

I hate small boys. What they were ever made for I can't imagine. Small girls have some "raison d'être." They may grow up to be pretty women.

Mrs. Richbody came panting up the stairs, and I repeated my question.

"Respectable? Why, yes, as much so as any of my cousins, I suppose," she said.

Caroline turned her head away quickly. I thought she even blushed, but she has such a deuced fine color anyway that I couldn't be positive of this.

"May I come to dinner this evening?" asked I humbly.

REVOLT OF LAITY.

Methodist Demand for Popular Power

Vested by Dr. Townsend of Baltimore.

Chicago April 29.—Chicago methodism challenged the bishops, presiding elders and politicians of the Methodist Episcopal church of America last night. The knight who cast the gauntlet was Rev. Luther T. Townsend, D. D., of Mount Vernon Place Church, Baltimore. He did so at the request of the Chicago Methodist Social Union.

Methodism, supposed to be the most conservative form of orthodox religion in America, was rebuked by a Methodist and Methodists. Little reference was made to Wesley, the founder of the church. But the bugle call was sounded for a battle which is to be fought in Cleveland next Friday.

The general quadrennial conference of the Methodist church is to open there that day, and Chicago Methodists intend to plead for a new form of church government for the Methodists of America, which is to be of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Dr. Townsend said this, and 1,200 stalwart Methodists applauded him to the echo. He arraigned the present form of government of the church.

He denounced it as monarchical, as suppressing the voice of the laity, stifling the ambitions of the best ministers, making the bishops and the conference autocrats. These autocrats, he said, were retarding the progress of the church. He insisted that a democratic spirit was needed at this hour in the polity of the church. His sole reference to Wesley was that he was an absolute dictator. "But," he added,

"Wesley was an ecclesiastical statesman and not an ecclesiastical politician."

He took up, point by point, the great questions which are now agitating Methodist bishops and elders in all parts of America. He advocated the admission of laymen of the church to the annual conferences and held they should have more voice in the general conferences. He scored the time-limit rule now applying to pastors and pronounced the present appointing powers of bishops as undemocratic.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain; cures curd colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Caroline hesitated. My heart sank to my boots, and I felt the queerest little dryness in my throat. The human seals stopped barking as if by prearrangement, and there came a moment of complete quiet such as sometimes occurs amid the noisiest scene. In the silence I heard Caroline say softly, but very distinctly, "I think we might let him in."

"Get a grammar," suggested Caroline.

"One can't get the pronunciation from a book," said I. "To catch the true inspiration of that glorious tongue one must have the living teacher."

"I don't know," said Mrs. Richbody doubtfully. "You certainly don't deserve to come, but I'll leave it to Caroline. I want to come to dine with you to—study German."

"Get a grammar," suggested Caroline.

"I don't know," said I; "that's not the trouble. My nose is out of joint."

Not a Question of Arithmetic.
"I hear you're very good at arithmetic, Bobby," said the visitor, pleasantly.
"Sure," returned Bobby, without looking up from his play.

"Well, if I should tell you when your papa and your mamma were born could you tell me how old they are?" asked the visitor.

"I could tell you how old pap is," answered the boy.

"And not how old mother is?"

The boy shook his head.

"Arithmetic hasn't anything to do with a woman's age," he said.—Chicago Post.

The Baggage Smasher's Fate.

First Baggage-Smasher—Say, Jake, I'm thinkin' it'd be money in our pockets if we'd begin handlin' trunks more kearful.

Jake—Why wud it?

Ruin by His Eloquence.

"How's your son, the barrister, gettin' on?"

"Badly, poor fellow. He's in prison."

"Indeed!"

"Yes; he was retained by a burglar to defend him, and he made so good a plea in the burglar's behalf that the judge held him as an accessory."—Tit-Bits.

Measurements.

"I've seen the machine workers," said Senator Sorgum's emissary.

"How do they feel?"

"Their enthusiasm is beyond measure."

"No it isn't. There is always one way of measuring their enthusiasm."

"How?"

"By the barrel."—Washington Star.

That speck of light has dropped from sight—

It was a shooting star!

Jolted to Death.

The Kidneys are peculiarly sensitive to jolting or jarring of any kind, as it is well known that Car Drivers and Conductors, Engineers, Brakemen and Conductors, are very liable to have Kidney or Bladder disease in some form. The strain comes on the Kidneys, the Kidneys try to relax, the Kidneys tries to quiet this cry for relief, smoothing it under a plaster or denuding it with a lime poultice.

The disease is there just the same and if you want to cure it perfectly and permanently use Dr. Hobbs Sparaco's Kidney Pills. They go to the very seat and root of the trouble, and they stop the pain by curing the disease.

An Unfortunate Frenchman.

Giovanni Caserio, the youngest brother of Santo Caserio, who assassinated President Carnot, has been extremely unfortunate since his brother's inhuman crime. He has been kept under police surveillance, though he did not share in the least the anarchistic ideas of his brother. This espionage prevented him from finding work; and finally he entered a Capuchin convent at Borgo San Donnino. But after three months' residence there, when he was to be accepted as a regular monk and brother, the superior, who is a Frenchman, having been apprised of the identity of Caserio, drove him out of the convent. The young man is now asking from the French government permission to change his name.—Exchange.

Taking a Cowardly Course.

The republicans want to get rid of Roosevelt because his enforcement of the Sunday excise law turns away the German vote and weakens them in the cities. But they dare not repeal or amend the Sunday excise law, because that would offend the rural republicans who were so effectually stirred up by Mr. Warner Miller last fall. No party or faction of a party ever adopted a more cowardly or more despicable policy.—New York Times.

Boy—"I know; the two that got the worst of the fight."—Harper's Round Table.
